NEW MEDICINE!

THE GREATEST SUCCESS OF THE AGE!!!

NO MORE COD-LIVER OIL. SYRUP OF IODIZED HORSERADISH OF GRIMAULT and Co., Apothecaries and chemists, 2, Rue de la Feuillade, Paris. According to the certificates of the physicians of the Paris Hospitals, detailed in the prospectus, and with the approbation of several Academies, this Syrup is employed with the greatest success in place of Cod-liver Oil, which it is really superior. It cures diseases of the chest, scrofula, lymphatic disorders, green sickness, muscular atony, and loss of appetite. It regenerates the constitution by purifying the Blood, and is, in a word the most powerful depurative known. It never fatigues the stomach and bowels like the iodide of potassium and the iodide of iron, and is administered with the greatest efficacy to young children subject to humours or obstruction of the glands. Dr. CAZENAVE, of Saint Louis hospital, Paris, recommends it particularly in cutaneous diseases conjointly with the pills which bear his name.

PROSPECTS of IRON, DE LIRAS, apothecary doctor of sciences, 7, Rue de la Feuillade, Paris.—This new ferruginous medicine contains the elements of the bones and blood, and iron in liquid state. From observations made in the hospitals and detailed in the prospectus, it is superior to ferruginous pills, lactate of iron, iron reduced by hydrogen, pills and syrups of the iodide of iron, and cures rapidly, stomach complaints, painful digestion, poverty of the blood, loss of strength and appetite, and the diseases incidental to females. It is the best adjunct to, COD LIVER OIL and the best preserver of health in tropical climates.

ELIXIR OF PEPSINE prepared by GRIMAULT & Co., chemists, 7, Rue de la Feuillade, Paris, according to the formula of Dr. CORVISART, knight of the Legion of Honour, Physician to H. M. the Emperor of the French. PEPSINE is pastric juice itself, or rather the digestive principle purified, which digests food in the stomach. When from various causes the supply of the digestive fluid is too small, inevitable consequences are bad digestion, gastricite, gastralgia, inflammation of the mucous coats of the stomach and bowels, heartburn, anæmia, loss of strength, and in females, general derangement. The elixir of Pepsine, which is sanctioned by the approbation of the Paris Academy of Medicine speedily cures all such diseases, & prevents vomiting during pregnancy.

INTERNAL OR LOCAL NEW CURATIVE AGENT.
MATICO.
GRIMAULT & Co., PARIS.

THIS new remedy is prepared from the leaves of a Peruvian pepper shrub, called Matico, and CURES PROMPTLY and INFALLIBLY without any fear of inflammatory results. The great majority of Physicians in Paris, Prussia, Germany, and New York, now use no other remedy. Full Directions accompany each Bottle and Packet; or an explanatory treatise will be sent post free for 9d.

IODINE OIL OF T. PERSONNE.

APPROVED BY THE IMPERIAL ACADEMY OF MEDICINE, PARIS.

ACCORDING to the Official report, adopted by the Academy, it is a fact, that this Oil, which is in every respect similar to sweet Almond Oil, is a drug of the highest value, and in many respects preferable to COD LIVER OIL. All the SCROFULOUS AND STRUMODS DISEASES, the enlargements and tuberculisations of Glands, Rubeea, tertiary affections. The beginning of Pulmonary Tubercles, and several cutaneous diseases, as Lupus, subcutaneous Tubercles, are equally benefited, by it.

M. BROCHD, the well known Surgeon to the Hospital du Midi, one of the Official reporters, says: In all curable cases, the cure, or at least, some amelioration, has been much quicker by this Oil, than by Cod Liver Oil, and the doses much smaller.

Sold in Paris, by M. LABELONYE & Co., Chemist, 19, Rue Bourbone Villeneuve.

Sold in Hongkong, by J. J. DA SILVA & SOUZA. cs

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG MAY 6, 1865.

Our readers will observe from the announcement to be found in its proper place, that the French operatic troupe have determined on giving their first representation at the Theatre Royal on Monday evening next.

The piece selected is Donnizetti's Opera of La Fille du Regiment.

WE were not present when Jack Sheppard was performed on Thursday last, but we are told that Madame Duret's impersonation of the leading character was inimitable. The casts of characters we must extensive, the scenery and properties being on a corresponding scale. The whole was put upon the stage in a manner highly creditable to the management, and by far exceeding anything of the kind ever attempted in China before. The House was quite full, much excitement being displayed during the progress of the piece.

It will be repeated to-night at reduced rates that all many have the opportunity of witnessing it.

There is one point with respect to the present theatre, that we desire should be understood in the proper quarters. Mr. Brown's lease will expire in a few days. There are at present two applicants for the loan of the building—one, the French operatic company, the other, Mr. Lewis, who is daily expected from Shanghai.

When Mr. Browne took charge, the stage was a complete wreck. He put it in perfect order at great pains and labor and at some expense. He has not realised sufficient to pay his way since his first arrival, and we do think it will hardly be fair to allow either Mr. Lewis, or the French Opera Company the use of the scenery and properties which his practical skill and hardly earned money have created, without a stipulation that the party or the parties so benefitted shall accord him some fair remuneration. He has been treated with such uniform kindness and consideration by both the military authorities and the gentlemen amateurs, that we feel sure they will see justice done to him.

THE Orifiamme arrived yesterday afternoon, bringing dates from Shanghai to the 29th Ult. We see no news except that the edict against Prince Kung is so far relaxed as to leave him his seat on the Foreign Board. This is a wise move, and is doubtless brought about by the representatives of the Treaty powers at Peking.

CONTINUING our recital of the outrage on Mr. Butler.

When Messrs. Butler and Carter were taken on board the Vindex, they found their old comrade Mr. Ward there, a prisoner at large. It should be particularly borne in mind as a sequence of the system of torture practised by the Baron de Meritens, that this poor fellow Ward, not having the fortitude of his companions, had made admissions which it was hoped would criminate both himself and Messrs. Butler and Carter also. Therefore whilst he was treated leniently in consequence, Messrs. Butler and Carter, merely because they refused to criminate themselves, appealing to the treaty and to the law, were treated most barbarously.

From the Vindex the prisoners were transferred to the British steamer Annette, which vessel was bound for Foochow, Ningpo, and Shanghai, it being the Baron's intention to deliver them to their respective Consuls at the latter named port. Besides Messrs. Butler, Carter and Ward, there were three German, two French, and one American prisoner sent per Annette, all being manacled, except Mr. Ward. The two Frenchmen stated that they were sent by the Baron to the French Consul Shanghai to be tried for holding communication or for supplying arms to the rebels, and these two men were treated in all respects precisely like the others.

On what terms, or for what remuneration the master of the Annette took these prisoners, we do not know. He was wise enough to have nothing to do with them. His Chief Officer, commiserating with the captives, asked the master if their irons might be taken off. The master replied that he would not interfere either one way or another. Hearing this, the prisoners broke their irons and threw them overboard. The night the steamer reached Foochow, Messrs. Butler and Carter remained on deck, and noticed that one of the Frenchmen, whom they supposed was a fellow prisoner, kept a very close watch upon them. Mr. Butler, by way of drawing this man out, asked him what time it was; the fellow replied in a very surly manner, that he did not know; Butler said it was strange he should be so watchful and still be ignorant of the hour. This conversation confirmed the impression in Mr. Butler's mind, that the man was a spy. The following morning the vessel having then reached Foochow, Mr. Butler asked the man if he were a policeman? The Frenchman replied in the affirmative. Mr. Butler asked upon whose authority and also desired to see his warrant. The villain laughed and said he would show his authority by and bye. Mr. Butler then called the man "a d——d spy," and used sufficiently hard language to have led to blows, but the sneak submitted. Capt. Carter seeing some lighters alongside the Annette was determined to leave, or if the reader prefers it, to escape. He accordingly slipped over the side and effected his purpose. The Frenchman would have prevented him if he could have done so, but the fellow was afraid of losing Mr. Butler, who was the party most in request. It was a lost fear, for Mr. Butler was desirous of going to Shanghai to evoke the the law at the hands of the Consul General, and as for Capt. Carter, he was desirous to return to Amoy to make arrangements regarding his schooner, which had obtained a charter in the Formosa trade. He did return to Amoy and carried out his intention, but he left hurriedly on finding that the Baron's hounds were again after him.

As for the future proceedings connected with Mr. Butler, we are dependent on hearsay evidence. We believe that the Annette reached Ningpo in due course, and that Mr. Butler again insisted on being sent to Shanghai under Consul protection. The U. S. Consul of that port assented and took bonds accordingly. The French guard however still insisted on retaining charge of Mr. Butler. At last the ruffian's aggressive acts exasperated Mr. Butler so much that he struck him, when the Frenchman drew a revolver and fired it twice—the first time the ball missed—the second fire killed Mr. Butler.

As for the other prisoners. They reached Shanghai in the Annette, whence Germans were handed over to the Prussian Consul General. It appeared that they were taken during Gough's Changchow. All the necessary forms of law, and requirements of evidence had been so entirely neglected, that no case could be established against them and they were dismissed.

What became of Mr. Ward and the other American, we do not know, but we believe that the United States Consul General is quite of the same opinion as his Prussian confrère.

Neither have we any certain information as to what has become of Mr. Butler's murderer, but we are pleased to learn that the executors of the deceased have retained Counsel and are determined that Justice shall be satisfied.

The case is before our readers, and they should be enabled to decide on its merits. In the first place let us judge of the conduct of the Baron de Meritens by the letter and the spirit of the treaties. Messrs. Butler, Carter, and Ward, being citizens of the United States, the American treaty of course applies; but we would remark that touching the subject of exterritoriality, an aggression by the Chinese authorities on one treaty power, is tantamount to an aggression on all the treaty powers, because a principle is involved, which if allowed to be destroyed in one treaty will naturally be destroyed in all foreign treaties.

The XI. Art. of the United States Treaty with China (18th June 1858) stipulates as follows:—"Citizens of the United States either on shore or in any merchant vessel, who may insult, trouble, or wound the persons or injure the property of Chinese, or commit any other improper act in China, shall be punished only by the Consul or other public officer thereto authorized according to the laws of the United States. Arrests in order to trial, may be made made by either the Chinese or the United States authorities."

The United States have never in the least relaxed the right of their citizens to be exempt from Chinese tribunals. On the contrary, and much to the credit of President Lincoln be it spoken, that the better to enable United States authority in China to deal with serious cases, a Consul General has lately been appointed with power of life and death.

What do we find to the case before us? Three United States citizens were found in a boat six miles from Amoy. According to the treaty they had a perfect right to be at that distance from an open port. They were suspected of having visited Changchow, a place in the occupation of insurgents in rebellion to the Chinese government. Even so, their crime only amounted to breaking a blockade, and that according to United States law is no great affair. Be that even if the worst that was attempted to be proved against them had been substantiated by sound and available evidence, what on earth did it all amount to?

But what a dreadful judicial system do we see unfolded? An imaginary crime was presupposed, and torture was resorted to for the purpose of proving it! Can barbarism or tyranny combined go further?

We say it, with confidence and yet with sorrow, that Yeh's doings with respect to the Lorcha Arrow amounted to a mere flea-bite as compared with what the Baron de Meritens did in this matter. Weak whether the leading nations of Christendom are content to go to war with China because of a small violation of existing treaties, and then allow the new treaties which such war brought about, to be violated in letter and in spirit on such a vital point as the liberty of the person?

Nor is this the suggest way of putting the question—; for the establishment of the Customs under a foreign inspectorate was a great act of grace and friendship towards the Chinese by the treaty powers. In such a concession to resists in calling in existance emergency element to encourage and to teach the Chinese to repeat on a large scale what the war was undertaken to punish them for committing on a small scale.

And really the modus operandi adopted by the Baron de Meritens appals and disgusts us. We abhor any system that is based on spying, which conveys with it all that is treacherous, false, and deceitful. We declare that we never remember to have heard of such repulsive judicial proceedings in our life, as those adopted by the Baron de Meritens in the case before us. The assumption of authority in convening a mock court—the unbecoming and overbearing conduct displayed towards the prisoners when dragged up before this miserable tribunal—the barefaced violation of the treaty—the torture practised to extract worthless evidence—the subornation of and contempt for Consular authority—the sneaking dirty trick of employing a myrmidon to undertake the part of a spy, a jailor, and a murderer—all tend to stamp the Baron with a degree of obloquy which appears incredible.

We had previously learnt of the Baron sending spies to Changchow for the purpose of ascertaining the numbers of the land, and of conveying offers to the foreign mercenaries in the rebel ranks to desert the service. We condemned the Baron's conduct even for this act, because we thought he was stepping beyond the limits of his duty, and that the spy system was unbecoming a gentleman. But then we thought he might have had motives of consideration towards misguided man, and we were not disposed to judge of the matter too harshly. But in the case before us, we see him attempting to establish a judicial system which displays a degree of mental turpitude absolutely repulsive. We say it advisedly that the British Government will be mad to submit to such a Custom system as the Baron de Meritens desires to initiate in China.

Again, there are two sides to every game. When Mr. Butler was in Changchow, a spy of the Baron's named Gerard was absolutely detected. That is to say he conveyed a message from the Baron to Rohde, who had him at once arrested. The man would have been harshly dealt with but for poor Mr. Butler. We certainly would recommend Rohde to hold a few Mandarins and spies too, in order to retaliate such atrocities as we have described.

As for the murder of Mr Butler. The Annette being a British ship, there is no doubt that the act comes under British authority. We shall now see whether the law is to be used like a pair of old boots, or whether not the Sinicum but the mots which governs British authority in China.

NOTICE OF REDUCTION OF PASSAGE MONEY.

IN the year 1857 the Directors made a considerable reduction in the Company's rates of Passage Money, which continued in force till 1861.

In that year, owing to the extraordinary rise in the Cost and Freight of Coals, and the enhanced price of all descriptions of Naval Stores, the Directors were reluctantly compelled to return to the rates of Passage Money previously in force. They are now happy to state that a decrease in the price of Coal and other expenses of Steam Navigation enables them to reduce the Company's Passage rates to the undernoted scale, which will take effect from and after the 1st June next, viz:—

From Hongkong to:—

Suez	$460
Malta	510
Marseilles	530
Gibraltar	530
Southampton	550

Reserved Rates for Single Persons.

Suez	$620
Malta	1,020
Marseilles	1,060
Gibraltar	1,060
Southampton	1,100

Reserved Rates for Married Couples.

Suez	$1,100
Malta	1,260
Gibraltar	1,316
Marseilles	1,348
Southampton	1,388

The charges for Children are in proportion to the above.

The above rates are exclusive of the amount payable to the Egyptian Transit Administration for conveyance of Passengers through Egypt, viz:—

For First-class Passengers, $32
Children above three and under ten years, half-fare.
